

Globo

design Enzo Mari / 2001

Globo is a wall coat hanger with a simple and functional concept. It's made up of a spherical structure in polypropylene and a stainless steel hook.

Depending on the piece of clothing, it can be hung on the ball or hook, and both if needed. As a design element, Mari has provided a square in the center of the knob-like ball: a playful approach to geometric shapes, the round and the angular, positive and negative bodies. Globo is available in 6 vibrant colours and can be installed solitary or in a group to keep things organized.
